

‘Stockholm Marathon’ by Kornél Kovács

STREAM / DOWNLOAD / BUY HERE

*‘Stockholm Marathon’ is a snapshot of one of house music’s sharpest minds following his intuition, to delightful results. Pitchfork

*‘Stockholm Marathon’ feels like a host of treasures you’d discover after a long bout of crate-digging, only they’re all in one place. DJ Mag

*A skewed dancefloor aesthetic executed with charming playfulness. Mixmag

*A patchwork of jerking alt-R&B, angelic melodies, twisted dancehall riddims and Kovács prime milieu, wonky house. MOJO

‘Stockholm Marathon’ is the epitome of bittersweet: ‘Ducks’ strikes a tone that’s both down-tempo as well as undeniably danceable while ‘Szombat’s’ juddering push-and-pull mechanism feels like arching limbo between an ex-lover, while the chorus of ‘Marathon’ : “I’m falling in love, such a mistake, you got me moving around, feeling so sick,” seems set to be a refrain repeated on dancefloors for years to come.

Studio Barnhus co-founder Kornél Kovács is back with a new album out now!

Stockholm Marathon was the result of Kovács moving back to his old flat in Stockholm. “I found myself reflecting a lot on this beautiful, boring city I never quite manage to move away from”, explains the producer.

“During what was a pretty strange time for me, I started experimenting with the combination of two well-tested ways of feeling better: making music and spending time with friends.”

The album sees Kovács collaborating with a variety of Stockholm-based artists and friends, including jazz musician Niclas Skagstedt, who the producer has known “since kindergarten”, engineer Matt Karmil and vocalists Rebecca & Fiona.

Stockholm Marathon tracklist:

01. ‘Purple Skies’
02. ‘Marathon’
03. ‘Szombat’
04. ‘Atlas Nights’
05. ‘Rocks’
06. ‘Ducks’
07. ‘Club Notes’
08. ‘Baltzar’
